

HISTORY OF SHOPPING

Barter

People simply exchange the things they had more of for things they had less

First markets

After the invention of money people started trading their goodies for money on places called markets, fairs or bazaars

1916- first shopping centre

At this year first shopping centre was open. It was a huge step ahead because people could walk under one roof and buy anything they needed.

Money invention

Very useful because money are endlessly transfereble.

Specialised shops

Through the history people specialized on just one type of shop. Baker for bread, butcher for meat greengrocer for vegetables etc.

Online shopping

At this year we can just click the mouse on the things we want and then wait until they will come to us.
